On Wednesday, October 4 at 8:30 p.m., there will be a special art history lecture at The Cleveland Museum of Art. The lecture, entitled REMBRANDT AND THE OLD TESTAMENT, is being given by Professor Wolfgang Stechow who is presently at Oberlin College and is one of the foremost scholars on this subject. From the beginning to the end of his life, Rembrandt drew from the Bible as a source of inspiration for his graphic art and painting. Professor Stechow will accompany his discussion with a comprehensive slide presentation of Rembrandt's works.
